SECT. 4. And be it further enacted, That the grand jurors, who shall be returned to serve at the Court of Common Pleas, shall serve at every term of said court, which shall be held throughout the year, and until another jury shall be empannelled in their stead, except the county of Bristol, where they shall be required to serve twice in each year, at such times as the Court of Common Pleas for that county may direct. SECT. 7. And be it further enacted, That when by a deficiency of either of the grand, traverse, or petit jurors of any court, it cannot conveniently proceed in its business, it may cause writs of venire facias, for the drawing and returning so many jurors as shall be deemed necessary, to be forthwith issued, and directed to the constables of such towns in the county as the court, under the existing circumstances, shall judge most proper; conforming, as far as the business of the court will permit, to the principles, by which under this act jurors are to be selected, and their services equalized: And the jurors so drawn, shall be notified by the con-

SECT. 9. Be it further enacted, That the justices of the respective courts aforesaid, shall, on motion from either party, in a suit, put any juror upon oath, whether he is any way related to either party, or hath formed or given any opinion, or is sensible of any particular interest or prejudice in the cause ; and if, thereupon, it shall appear to the court, that such juror does not stand indifferent in the cause, another juror shall be called or returned, and be placed, for the trial of that cause, in his stead.

SECT. 10. And be it further enacted, That from the return on the venires, the clerk of each court shall prepare, or have prepared, at the opening of every court, separate alphabetical lists of the names of the persons who shall be returned as grand. traverse, or as petit jurors, respectively. SECT. 12. And be it further enacted, That if at any time, from the existing state of the country, the nature or quantum of the business pending, or from any other cause, the courts respectively shall be of opinion that it will be a hardship on one set of traverse, or petit jurors, to serve the whole of the term, and that it would best meet the interest of the public, and of individuals, to have a second set of jurors to serve a part of the term, it shall be in the discretion of the court to direct their clerk, when they shall issue their venires to the constables, in manner before directed, for the usual number of jurors, to require in the same venire, that a second draft of an additional number, equal to the first number, shall be made, which shall be called provisional jurors, and shall form the second set, if, and so far as they should be needed, and be especially sent for by the court. And the constables shall also notify these jurors four days before the sitting of the court, of their being drawn as provisional jurymen, in the same manner as is provided for the notification of the first set of jurors. And such provisional jurors shall hold themselves in readiness, and be obliged to attend and serve, if and when, called for by the court, in the course of that term. SECT. 13. And be it further enacted, That the manner in which constables, upon the receipt of venires for jurors, shall notify the qualified inhabitants of their respective towns to assemble, and to be present at their drafts as aforesaid, shall, unless otherwise ordered by said towns respectively, be the same as has been, or shall be established therein for notifying and warning their annual town meetings. But if any town have, or shall, at a legal town meeting, order or appoint that the notification shall be by the constables giving notice to the selectmen, or the major part of them, and the town clerk, or by any other mode, such notification shall be sufficient.
